Defender of the Year

January 14, 2011 marked the inaugural Defender of the Year Award Ceremony, recognizing and honoring members of our military who command fully operational and deployed missile defense systems. The event recognized a United States Armed Forces service member from each branch, that currently deploys a U.S. missile defense system, for their outstanding work in the previous year. The event has since become an annual tradition and has been expanded to include the NORAD & USNORTHCOM Missile Warning and Defender of the Year in Colorado, established in 2013, the Alaska Missile Defender of the Year, established in 2014, the Pacific Air and Missile Defender of the Year, established in 2015, the Guam Missile Defender of the Year, established in 2015, and the Texas Missile Defender of the Year, established in 2017.

Defender of the Year Award Ceremonies have also expanded beyond the U.S. homeland to recognize the best regional missile defenders from the U.S. and U.S. allies to include the Peninsula Defender of the Year, established in 2012 with our allies in the Republic of Korea, the Okinawa Missile Defender of the Year, established in 2013 with our allies in Okinawa, Japan, the United Arab Emirates Air and Missile Defender of the Year, established in 2014 with our allies in the Gulf Cooperation Council, the European Missile Defender of the Year, established in 2014 with our allies in Europe, the Japan Missile Defender of the Year, established in 2015 with our allies in Japan, and the Dutch Missile Defender of the Year, established in 2017 with our allies in the Netherlands.

We want to thank all those who have supported MDAA for over a decade to fulfill its mission to educate the American public on the need for our nation to develop and deploy missile defense.

ABOUT MDAA

The Missile Defense Advocacy Alliance

MDAA's mission is to make the world safer by advocating for the development and deployment of missile defense systems to defend the United States, its armed forces, and its allies against missile threats.

MDAA is the only organization in existence whose primary mission is to educate the American public about missile defense issues and to recruit, organize, and mobilize citizens to advocate for the critical need of missile defense. We are a non-profit organization that does not advocate on behalf of any specific system, technology, architecture, or entity.

MDAA was founded by Riki Ellison in 2002 to generate public support through education for the continued testing, development, and deployment of missile defense systems.

Clear AFS Base Defender Awardee
ALASKA MISSILE
DEFENDER of the YEAR

STAFF SERGEANT JOSHUA MARUGG

SSgt Marugg is the noncommissioned officer in charge of training for the 268th Security Forces Squadron, Clear AFS, Alaska. SSgt Marugg displays constant professionalism and has held many valuable duty positions to include; armorer, patrolman, and the first ever Security Forces combative program manager. He manages the annual training plan, oversaw mission critical certifications for 74 Security Forces Airmen, and was responsible for instructing over 80 members from two squadrons on high risk response and security forces combatives during the 2018 Annual Field Training Exercise. As a fire team leader, he supervised a force protection element responsible for safeguarding a Protection Level 1 (PL1) asset valued at $250 million. SSgt Marugg was instrumental in ensuring the safety of over 600 military and civilian personnel. He responded to 24 PL1 alarms where he took control as the on-scene commander directing facility security and prompt evacuation of personnel. SSgt Marugg embodies the "Whole Airman Concept," volunteering over 20 hours to coach children in the youth basketball league and seeks new challenges to further his professional growth and development. SSgt Marugg enlisted in the active duty Air Force in September of 2005 as a Security Forces Airman. After completing technical training at Lackland AFB, Texas, he was assigned to Cannon AFB, New Mexico. During his time at Cannon, he was hand selected by the security forces commander to attend the Air Force Special Operations Command's first ever Deployed Aircraft Ground Response Element Program and Air Mobility Command SF Phoenix Raven Program. SSgt Marugg was selected among the top ten percent of his career field as a Ground Combat Tactics Instructor with the 435th Security Forces Regional Training Center at Sembach AB, Germany from 2011-2015. Over the course of four years he managed several programs; United States Air Forces in Europe (USAFE) Fly Away Security Team Course, Security Forces Combatives, and USAFE first ever Small Unmanned Aircraft System program. SSgt Marugg supported various missions with duties to include; Raven Team Member, Rumbula AB, Latvia; Presidential Security Team Member, Normandy, France; DAGRE Team Leader, J7 Combined Joint Special Operations Air Detachment, Balad, Iraq; and Heavy Weapon Gunner, Camp Sather, Iraq.

Clear AFS Base Defender Awardee ALASKA MISSILE DEFENDER of the YEAR

TECHNICAL SERGEANT DAVID DAVIS

TSgt Davis is the noncommissioned officer in charge of the Pass and Registration section for the 268th Security Forces Squadron, Clear AFS, Alaska. He serves as the primary Unit Security Manager for the 268th SFS, which includes the verification of security clearances and initiation of background checks. TSgt Davis is responsible for the vetting of over 4,732 personnel and visitors requiring base access to interior Alaska's only remote Protection Level 1 (PL1) asset, ensuring projects continue without interruption. During this time, he prevented 111 convicted criminals from gaining installation access. TSgt Davis worked in conjunction with the NCOIC of police services at the National Guard Bureau to establish the first ever DNA collection process for Clear AFS. TSgt Davis is also the Security Forces Management Information System Administrator and NCOIC of Reports and Analysis, which is responsible for ensuring all onsite police reports are accurately documented. TSgt Davis embodies the "Whole Airman Concept" by promoting camaraderie, embracing spirit de corps, and acting as an Air Force ambassador. TSgt Davis was handpicked as the Clear AFS representative for the Better Opportunities for Single Service members program. He has coordinated morale trips for three service members, broadening their cultural horizons. TSgt Davis also serves as an additional duty first sergeant providing three total force squadron commanders with a mission ready enlisted force capable of executing and attaining unit missions and goals. TSgt Davis entered the Air National Guard in December 2003 and graduated from Security Forces technical school at Lackland AFB, Texas, in June 2004. TSgt Davis' first assignment was with the 124th SFS at Gowen Field, Idaho. There he was responsible for installation security consisting of 14 A-10 Warhogs, seven C-130s, and 12 Blackhawk helicopters. In February 2006, TSgt Davis deployed to Ali Al Salem AB, Kuwait, where he worked primarily as a heavy weapons gunner and provided security during prisoner transport. In April 2007, TSgt Davis joined the Alaska Air National Guard as a security forces member for Clear AFS. His experience was quickly recognized as he attained flight sergeant duties while still a staff sergeant. Previously, TSgt Davis was the Assistant Flight Chief for the 268th SFS.

COBRA DANE Awardee ALASKA MISSILE DEFENDER of the YEAR

TECHNICAL SERGEANT JUSTIN HART

TSgt Hart is a COBRA DANE Logistics Support technician for the 13th Space Warning Squadron, Joint Base Elmendorf Richardson, Alaska. He oversees quality of life, logistics, security, and mission support for the COBRA DANE missile defense and space surveillance radar system and its 30 contracted maintenance personnel located at Eareckson Air Station, Shemya Island, Alaska. Additionally, he directs radar upgrade projects and bridges communications with Air Force Space Command, the Pacific Regional Support Center, and the system program office at Air Force Life Cycle Management Center. Located on the tiny Shemya Island, COBRA DANE's very "life" depends on TSgt Hart anticipating, planning, and delivering the myriad support needed to keep this aging system alive and watching our horizons. TSgt Hart obtained missile defense requirements and manifested critical items for an annual supply barge project to support Cobra Dane's key mission. He also processed 45 cargo shipments to Cobra Dane, even directing a configuration change to eliminate a delivery delay after discovering a power supply crate discrepancy, ensuring continued and persistent operations for Northern Command's strategic missile defense mission. TSgt Hart managed travel to Shemya, verifying the security clearance and travel requirements for 330 passengers to deliver the max support to the national missile defense mission, as well as securing the airlift and mission briefs for seven legislative visits to Cobra Dane. He also eliminated a 42-year vulnerability by leading a Protection Level 1 (PL1) asset waiver review to drive three Cobra Dane fortification projects and prevented unsecure missile defense data from being sent to MDA by updating communication security software. TSgt Hart entered the Air Force in May 2008 and graduated from the Traffic Management Apprentice technical training course at Lackland AFB, Texas, in September 2008. Prior to his current position, TSgt Hart was the NCOIC of Joint Personal Property office, Anchorage in the 773d Logistics Readiness Squadron at Joint Base Elmendorf Richardson, Alaska. TSgt Hart deployed in 2010 in support of Operation Enduring Freedom and in 2015 in support of Operation Inherent Resolve.

Clear AFS Top Crew Awardee ALASKA MISSILE DEFENDER of the YEAR

MASTER SERGEANT CHAD PETRIE

MSgt Petrie is the NCOIC of Weapons and Tactics for the 213th Space Warning Squadron. He oversees tactics and procedures for the Early Warning and Upgraded Early Warning Radar at Clear AFS, Alaska. Additionally, he is a Lead Instructor providing quality, accurate, and interactive training to 33 Space and Missile Operations Commanders and Crew Chiefs, producing highly skilled missile warning and missile defense professionals. MSgt Petrie trains space professionals to accurately determine and report ICBM and SLBM launches within 60 seconds to the Integrated Tactical Warning/Attack Assessment system as well as to plan, track, and report Low Earth Orbit Satellite pass information to the Air Force Space Command and Control Network. He develops advance-training scenarios to posture the team to be mission effective in even the most fast-paced, demanding, and complicated scenarios. MSgt Petrie is the connective tissue that bind Ops Training, weapons and tactics, and the crew force together. A superb senior noncommissioned officer, unrivaled technical expert, and tremendously effective instructor, he consistently generates warfighter results across the crew force. MSgt Petrie graduated from the University of Alaska-Fairbanks with a Bachelor of Arts in Criminal Justice. He joined the Alaska Air National Guard in October 2004 and started his career as a Communication and Navigation Systems Specialist with the 168th Air Refueling Wing. In 2006 he retrained into the Aircraft Guidance and Control career field maintaining the HH60 PAVE LOWE Helicopter for the 210th Rescue Squadron and the 176th Aircraft Maintenance Squadron until 2009. He again retrained in 2010 into the space operations career field as a Space and Missile Operations Crew Chief. After working on crew in the Missile Warning Operations Center at the 213th SWS for fourteen months, he was selected as a Staff Instructor in 2011. In 2014, he retrained as a Personnel Specialist and returned to the 213th SWS in 2015 as a Staff Instructor. A selection of MSgt Petrie's awards and decorations include the Air Force Commendation Medal (1 device), Army Commendation Medal, Army Achievement Medal (1 device), Air Force Outstanding Unit Award (1 device), Combat Readiness Medal, National Defense Service Medal (1 device), and the NATO Medal.

CAPTAIN MICHAEL HARVEY

Capt Harvey is the 13th Space Warning Squadron's Weapons and Tactics Flight Chief at Clear AFS, Alaska. Capt Harvey is a certified mission combat ready crew commander of a $250 million (AN/FPS-123) Early Warning phased-array radar (EWR). Capt Harvey's primary duty is to develop intelligent and forward-thinking operations, in support of the weapon system posturing for current and emerging threats. Working hand-in-hand with Ops Training, the combined team of Alaska Air National Guard, Regular Air Force, and Royal Canadian Air Force remains maximally prepared to defend against ballistic missile attack. To accomplish this mission, Capt Harvey directs a team of six tacticians developing tactics, techniques, and procedures (TTP) against evolving threats. These TTPs are tested and refined with the help of 41 certified operators at Clear AFS during real world operations and exercises. Once proven valuable, these TTPs are then shared with similar weapons systems spread across the missile defense architecture. Capt Harvey supports missile warning threat assessment for North American Aerospace Defense Command and Northern Command and battle space awareness for the Combined Space Operations Center. He also plays a key role in the transition from the EWR to the Upgraded EWR weapon system, providing system matter expert guidance for training and operational product development. Capt Harvey has supported missile defense for the last four years and brings UEUR experience and expertise to Clear from his time at the 7th SWS at Beale AFB, California. Capt Harvey graduated from the University of Utah in 2014 with a Bachelor of Science in Mechanical Engineering. He commissioned as a Second Lieutenant into the Air Force in May 2014. From 2015 to 2017, Capt Harvey was a UEUR Crew Commander at the 7th SWS at Beale AFB, California. In 2017, he joined the 13th SWS at Clear AFS, Alaska where he had been an EWR Crew Commander and Deputy Flight Commander Operations Support before his current position. Capt Harvey's awards include the Air Force Achievement Medal, National Defense Service Medal, Global War on Terrorism Service Medal, and the Nuclear Deterrence Operations service Medal ('N' device).

Clear AFS Top Crew Awardee ALASKA MISSILE DEFENDER of the YEAR

CAPTAIN MICAH HANAUER

Capt Hanauer is a Crew Commander in the Missile Warning Operations Center and Chief of Operations Training at the 213th Space Warning Squadron, Clear AFS, Alaska. Capt. Hanauer exercises operational control of a $250 million (AN/FPS-123) phased-array radar. His primary duties include oversight and training of new space and missile defense operators, detection and reporting of missile warning events, tracking of 8,000 low earth-orbiting satellites, tracking new foreign and domestic launches, and space object identification. He develops and instructs training curriculum designed to give trainees hands-on and applicable war fighting skills, maintaining crew force proficiency on the Early Warning Radar while simultaneously creating and delivering a whole new training program for the Upgraded Early Warning Radar. Capt Hanauer has been the foremost expert in delivering effective training for our newly UEWR software, thus integrating Clear into the ground-based missile defense architecture. Capt Hanauer supports missile warning threat assessment for the North American Aerospace Defense Command and Northern Command and Space Situational Awareness for the Combined Space Operations Center. Capt Hanauer enlisted in the Active Duty Air Force in 2003 and after his initial school worked maintaining electronics including navigational aids, radar, radio communications, microwave, and weather equipment. His first duty station was as a METNAV Apprentice with the 366th Communications Squadron at MT. Home AFB, Idaho. From 2005 to 2009, he was an Airfield Systems Journeyman in Fairford, United Kingdom. In 2008, Capt Hanauer graduated from Excelsior College with a Bachelor of Science in Liberal Arts in Psychology and Sociology. After Fairford, he was an Airfield Systems Craftsman for the 354th Communications Squadron at Eielson AFB, Alaska. Capt Hanauer joined the Alaska Air National Guard and commissioned as a personnel, services, and manpower officer in 2012 while working as a junior reservoir engineer on the North Slope of Alaska. He was then selected as a full-time guardsman as a Space Operations Officer at Clear AFS, Alaska. Capt Hanauer's awards include the Air Force Commendation Medal (1 Oak Leaf Cluster), National Defense Service Medal, and Global War on Terrorism Service Medal.

Senator Theodore "Ted" Stevens

November 18, 1923 - August 10, 2010

Senator Stevens had the courage where others did not, the foresight against the majority where others dare not, and the tenacity of a skilled and determined man who came from humble American beginnings to help bring the 49th state into the Union. Senator Stevens defended our nation with valor, wisdom and vision. He reached out to enable every part of Alaska from its native tribes, wildlife, natural resources and its people to significantly add to the fabric and strength of the American people and its culture. Senator Stevens, with his intimidating presence and reputation of passionate deliberate confrontation on issues important to our nation and his state had a more compassionate reputation to those that knew him of deep love and respect.

He enabled and led the multitudes of people he touched in so many ways throughout his 86 years in the making of today's America. We were fortunate to have him grace our nation, share his wisdom, use his knowledge, and live with freedom from his legacy. For missile defense, there has been no greater legislator or representative of the American people in the history of our country.

No one has done more to evolve, develop and deploy our nation's missile defense systems that are placed throughout the world, making our world, allies and troops safe today. Without Senator Stevens' visionary leadership, this nation would not today have a deployed missile defense system and architecture protecting our homeland.

The Missile Defense Agency would not have been formed or supported without the iron will of Senator Stevens. From all of us that support missile defense, we are eternally grateful for his legacy, leadership and determination.
